THE BABY ATTACK

By Shihvik Veduka

Waa! Waa!

Goo goo gaa gaa.
On a sunny day...

Rumble

Hey, what's that noise?

Take this box. Whatever is inside, take care of it for one week, and tell me if there is a protest going on.

Let's open it.

Goo goo.
So we have to take care of babies? That is so easy!

So...

Stay here.

I-pad

waaaaa!

No!

shatter
I need to interview them to find out what happened.

Okay.

First question: why did you do it?

Gaa.

Second question: did you do it on purpose?

Gaa.

Third question: are you a secret agent from the CIA?

Gaa.

I figured it out: the babies are secret agents from the CIA.

Hmm.
Let's put them in that room. Let's put a camera there and watch what the agents do. Let's also put a fake iPad there.

Got it.
Meanwhile...

That agent knows the difference between a fake and real iPod. They are smart.

Let's put another trap for them.

Sure!
Let's see if they know the difference between hot and cold water.

So...

Hey, the camera's not working!
Gob... empty glasses

Goo... Looka... Stoot!

Maybe we need to call a mechanic.

Yeah!
Ahh! Help!
splash
Ahh! Help!
splash

Ah! Sir! Take them away!
Okay

Yes!! Please.
So you give?

Then... WHAT!

There is another contest; you have to take care of...
Beware of babies! They may look normal to you, but believe me, they are not.

Really!
Believe us!
