

The Sea Turtle

There once was a sea turtle named Ellie. Ellie had four friends, Rachel,

Pat, Dave, and Tim. Rachel was a sea horse, Pat was a ray, Dave was a little shark, and Tim was a fish.

One day they were playing tag and Pat was it and she was trying to get Ellie and Ellie swam into rocks and got stuck.

They tried to pull her out but it didn't work. Suddenly they heard a tiny voice from a rock. They looked closer and it was a clam. They said hello,

and the clam said, "Hi,

I can help you get your friend unstuck."

"How?," asked Rachel.

The little clam said,

"Move the rocks to free her." So they went back and tried

it. It worked, but then Pat said, "What should we do to thank the clam? We should go ask her. Thank you for helping us, would you like us to do something?"

The clam said, "I've been here all my life,
could you show me
the reef?"

They said, "Yes!" Then

they became best friends forever.

The end.
