The Pushouts

Social Media Toolkit

The Pushouts, will premiere on December 20, 2019 (check local listings) on PBS, pbs.org and the PBS Video app. VOCES is presented by PBS SoCal.

Companion Site: https://www.pbssocal.org/programs/voces/
Photos: http://pressroom.pbs.org/Programs/v/VOCES/301-The-Pushouts
Handle: @VocesOnPBS (Facebook), @VocesMedia (Twitter)
Hashtag: #VocesPBS

The Pushouts

Facebook/Instagram

"You can sit there and tell me all you want 'Hey man, pull yourself up by the bootstraps,' but if I was born without any straps on my boots, how am I supposed to pick myself up?" —Gang member-turned professor, Victor Rios who mentors young people in VOCES' The Pushouts. Tune in or stream [TUNE IN TIME]

"Saying 'drop-out,' you're putting the blame on the individual. 'Push-out' it says 'Wait a minute system, what's going on here?" -Victor Rios, who went from gang member to celebrated professor and expert on the school-to-prison pipeline. Now, he helps vulnerable youth find their own paths to success. Tune in or stream VOCES' The Pushouts [TUNE IN TIME]

When Victor Rios was a teenager he "specialized in" stealing cars. Now, he's a celebrated professor, TED Talk presenter, and expert in the school-to-prison pipeline. He mentors young people who were pushed out of the educational system. Tune in or stream VOCES' The Pushouts [TUNE IN TIME]

Twitter

"You can sit there and tell me all you want 'Hey man, pull yourself up by the bootstraps,' but if I was born without any straps on my boots, how am I supposed to pick myself up?"—@drvictorrios who mentors young people in @VocesMedia's #ThePushoutsPBS. Tune in/stream @ [TUNE IN TIME]

When @drvictorrios was a teenager he "specialized in" stealing cars. Now, he's a celebrated professor, expert in the school-to-prison pipeline and mentors young people who were pushed out of the educational system. Tune in or stream @VocesMedia's The Pushouts @ [TUNE IN TIME]